CITY OF CARUTHERSVILLE
MARCH 21, 2016
PUBLIC HEARING

A Public Hearing was held in the Council Room in the Municipal Building on Monday, March 21, 2016, at 5:00 p.m., at which time and place the following were present:

Bob Lazenby, Jane Ellen Lazenby, Teddy Cheek, James Mott, Paul Shaw, Teresa Tidwell, Christina Williams, Emma Campbell, Johnnie Christian, Michael Watkins, Erica Prater, Cathryn Prater, Kid Prater, Howard Prater, Christi Watkins, Tony Jones, Tina Rushing, Ronnie Prater, Wenlan Reno, Bill Reno, Laurie Curtis, Crystal Powell, Richard Lee, Ella Coleman, Freddie Sanders, Gene Tarpley, John Hayes, Ronnie Prate, Jerry Bates, Lillie Wilbourn, Tammy Ramirez, Betty Lee, Shelly Walker, Josh Duncan, Alvin Cummings, Charles Motton, Steve Motton, Matthew Dukworth, BT Merideth, Barbara Rodgers, Takella Motton, Mike McGraw, Lawrence Dorroh, Johnny Harmon, JJ Bullington, Nick Cartee, Michael Phlelps, Logan Green, Jarred Yates, Margaret Stepp, Pearl Williams, and Laveta Lockridge.

The purpose of the meeting was to vote as to whether or not B & H Recycling, Howard Prater, should be granted approval by the City Council permission for the operation of a salvage yard at 701 E. 9th St. A petition was submitted to the Planning and Zoning Commission for the addition of auto salvage and wreckage to be included in regards to the aforementioned property. Howard Prater's assumption was that what he was already recycling was legal, but a verbal amendment was made to the petition inclusive of what was already in operation. Planning and Zoning made recommendation to consider the operation of auto wrecking or salvage, junk, iron, or rags, storage or bailing with the conditions of draining fluids from autos, no junk setting outside of the building, and having a fence of 8ft. tall constructed of tin or plastic being kept in good repair.

Mayor McGraw extended to the floor that everyone should state their name and address the Council. Howard Prater stated that he had over 20,000 lbs. of tin, 15,000 lbs. short steel, 7,000 long steel, 900 lbs. of copper, 200 lbs. of wire, 60 lbs. of aluminum, and 100 lbs. of brass. He stated that B & H would be an asset to the community.

James Mott stated that a recycling business was something that the City needed, and didn't understand why someone would want to block this business.

John Hayes stated that he worked at McCoy's for 10 years and $5,000 to $10,000 a day was spent in the community.

Lillie Wilbourn passed out pictures of McCoy's that showed the condition of the abandoned business, which will be received as part of the record of filings for the proceedings. She does not want another junk yard in the neighborhood.

Freddie Sanders stated that she was not opposed to B & H Recycling, but that the location was a problem, and didn't want it to be on the East side of town where there was already an existing junk yard that has been left to be cleaned up.

Jarred Yates stated that he felt that B & H would be putting money back into the community, and that it was needed. He stated that if the residents didn't want their kids playing in the area, than tell them to stay away.

Erica Prater stated that what happened with McCoy's doesn't apply to B & H. Howard cleaned up the mess that Branum's left behind, and has offered to help with the cleanup of McCoy's. Howard would not have bought the property if he hadn't been told that he could conduct business.

Charles Motton stated that when Eddie Taylor was operating his business adjacent to the said property he was told to clean it up and shut it down never to be reopened, with the same thing occurring on 3rd St. He made mention that at one of the meetings it had been expressed that a salvage yard was not welcomed on Industrial Drive because of the possibility of water contamination. At another meeting it was stated that a recycling business was not welcomed on Highway 84 or 3rd St.

Jeremy Watkins stated he had signatures of people in the community with a few located in the vicinity of the property that was in agreement with having a recycling business on E. 9th St. The document will be part of the record for the proceedings.

John Christian stated that he didn't mind a salvage yard, but wanted to know about EPA standards, if they were being abided by.

Wade Mansfield stated that he didn't understand why people were getting worked up about a new business coming to town; he had the same type of issues when he opened his business. He stated that there are laws in existence that would rectify any problems that may occur.

Bo Cummings stated that if B & H had cars that the EPA would be in to make sure everything was done right; the EPA was in all the time on McCoy's to make sure they were abiding by the standards when Charles McCoy was conducting the business.

Bill Reno state that he didn't understand why a public hearing was taking place. Howard was issued a license and the current Code Enforcement officer inspected the business. He stated that it was a new business that would bring revenue into town, and that the area is zoned for this type of business.

Counselor Dorroh stated for clarity that the "I-2" zone give's a list of things that can occur in the zone with an addition that there has to be a recommendation from the Planning and Zoning Commission with approval by the City Council before a business could legitimately be in operation. The business license itself is for tax purposes, it has nothing to do with the zoning, and you still have to get permission from the Code Enforcement officer. Dorroh talked with the former Code Enforcement officer, and he stated that he did tell Mr. Prater that he could have a junk yard in the particular vicinity, but didn't go into detail as to all the steps that had to be taken.

Gene Tarpley stated that a lot of the people depend on the salvage yard that can't get to Kennett; the business is needed.

Ella Coleman stated that she didn't have a problem with the salvage yard, but didn't want it at the location of E. 9th. She mentioned that there had been salvage yard at the same location for years and nothing was ever said, but when Eddie Taylor had his business there he was told to shut it down. She stated why not have the salvage yard somewhere on the West side of town.

Ronnie Prater stated that he was tired of riding around and seeing junk in the community. He stated that this was a business that would take care of the problem and that it would be well regulated.

Steve Motton stated that he didn't think it was right for a salvage yard to be located less than 50 ft. from public housing and a block away from French Park. He stated that it was enough blight on the East side; he commended the City of the cleanup of vegetation and debris. He submitted a petition of over 200 signatures of residents on the East side of town declaring that they do not want a salvage yard on E. 9th St. Steve also mentioned the study that was done after the tornado and McCoy's Salvage yard was declared an environmental nightmare.

Lance Mansfield stated that he has lived near a dump sit for years on S. Ward and never complained because the City needs it, and the city needs a recycling business.

Joe Prather stated he has lived across from the aforementioned property for 15 years and it has always been unkept. When Branum's got the property they didn't keep the property up, but Howard came in and cleaned the property up. Before B & H acquired the property, someone else had it and was dumping raw sewage, they complained about it and nothing was done.

Laveta Lockridge stated with everything being contained inside the building she would be fine with the business given the mistakes made by the City. Her request would be to have better fencing.

There were second calls for any additional discussion, which was more of the same. There was discussion of Howard Prater helping getting McCoy's cleaned up for the use of their scale. Accountability in regards to the City enforcing their laws was brought up. Charles Motton mentioned that the City could produce revenue and jobs if they chose to get into recycling perhaps at the old Brown Shoe building. Charles also suggested that the City have the meetings videotaped for transparency.

Counselor Dorroh stated that a business license is essentially for tax purposes to show that you can conduct a business it does not say that this location is permissible or takes place of the zoning laws. Discussion was also with the possibility of the City assisting Howard Prater in finding another location if it comes to him shutting his business down.

Gladys Hood read a letter from Councilperson Hood because of his inability to attend the meeting. Mrs. Hood stated that she believed that there was a way that if we put our heads together that we could come up with a solution that would benefit all parties. The letter stated Councilperson Hood's concern of having another eyesore in the community. He stated that the salvage yard could be located on Industrial Dr. far enough away from our water wells for any possibility of contamination. He went on to say that if he was in attendance and if a vote took place, he would have to vote no.

With no further discussion to come before the Council, the Public Hearing was closed with the start of the regular meeting.

Councilperson Rodgers had a request from Jimmy Hibbler concerning the vehicles that have gone through his fence on several occasions. He wanted to know if the City could put up a barrier or reflectors to caution against any further damage to his fence. The Street department will be notified of the dead end street in which vehicles have a tendency to go straight through.

Keith Davis reported that the basketball season was over, and the baseball season sign ups have ended with 250 signed on. New Business; Planning and Zoning Commission recommendation with discussion taking place first. Councilperson Bullington made mention of the mistakes that had been made, and believe that there’s a way that everybody could come out on top. The Code Enforcement issue has to be addressed, Terry Rushing has too many responsibilities to do the job effectively. Councilperson Rodgers made mention of what was iterated in closed session that whatever mistakes were made does not bind the City to anything. The zoning laws are in place and have to be abided by; the law still stays the same. Rodgers stated that the City should help Mr. Prater with possibly finding a location.

Counselor Dorroh stated there was a petition made to include auto wrecking and salvage as a part of the business, and at that time it was advised that they should include what was already taking place. They amended their request, which ended up being two requests. The Council can approve one or both; the Council also has the authority to impose reasonable requirements as deemed necessary to
